Digitizing Louisiana Newspapers Project (DLNP)

LSU Libraries is proud to present the Digitizing Louisiana Newspaper Project (DLNP), which offers 56 titles from the state of Louisiana published between 1860 through 1922—a total of 100,000 pages. An additional 100,000 pages from 27 titles published between 1836-1922 are currently being processed for digitization and will be available by the end of 2013. Access the complete list of newspaper titles under the Title and Parish links on the left. Browse newspapers from Louisiana and other states at Chronicling America.

Click on highlighted parishes below to access digital newspapers:

Started in 2009, this project is made possible by a grant from the National Digital Newspaper Program (NDNP), a partnership between the National Endowment of the Humanities (NEH) and the Library of Congress, which provides free access to United States newspapers.

Since 1986 LSU has been actively involved with the United States Newspaper Program \(USNP\). During the first phase of the Louisiana Newspaper Project (LNP), a survey was conducted by Dr. Elsie Hebert of the Manship School of Journalism. The second and third phases (cataloging and microfilming) of LNP have been conducted by the LSU Libraries, beginning in the Fall of 1987 and continuing to the present.

The purpose of USNP is to preserve and make accessible newspapers printed in the fifty states and in trust territories. USNP is supported financially by the National Endowment for the Humanities, with technical assistance provided by the Library of Congress.

During the cataloging phase of the LNP, LSU Libraries staff members cataloged all extant Louisiana newspapers they could locate in the state. They also compiled detailed information on all issues (both original and on film) held by repositories throughout the state. This information is updated and currently available online via FirstSearch WorldCat and OCLC Connexion Local Holdings Maintenance. All information compiled to 2000 is in the 3rd edition of The Louisiana Newspaper Project Printout (1999) available from the LSU Libraries. Records for Louisiana newspapers held by the LSU Libraries can be found in the online catalog.

"Family trees" have also been created for some newspapers with complicated publishing histories to help users trace changing titles and editions through time.

POSITIVE MICROFILM

Positive Microfilm of Louisiana newspapers is available for use in the LSU Libraries (Middleton and Hill Memorial libraries) and other libraries throughout the state. Many libraries, including LSU, will loan the film through Interlibrary Loan. LSU Libraries reserves the right to restrict some positive microfilm for

Abbeville Progress

Abbeville, the seat of Vermilion Parish, Louisiana, was founded in 1843 by Antoine Désiré Mégret, a French Capuchin missionary. Located in the heart of Cajun country, the town's population was initially of predominantly French extraction, with a small component of Italian and German Catholics. An immigration society was established in Abbeville in 1883 to promote the agricultural opportunities of the area. This led to an influx of Midwestern farmers who helped develop the parish's rice-growing industry. Other important local industries in the early 20th century included cattle raising and lumbering.

John Winfred O'Bryan (1887-1943) established the Abbeville Progress in 1913. Billing itself as "A Wide-Awake Home Newspaper," the eight-page nonpartisan weekly reported a wide range of local, national and international news. Of particular local interest is news related to agriculture, including the development of farmers' cooperative unions, the progress of the Good Roads movement in south Louisiana, and reports on the economic and social effects of the boll weevil blight. A general agricultural advice column was supplemented by separate columns on poultry, livestock, and gardening; additionally, in 1915 the paper published a series of fourteen articles from the United States Department of Agriculture entitled "The Home Garden of the South." A fashion column and "Progress Woman's Page" were targeted at women readers, as was

VERMILION PARISH

Abbeville, the seat of Vermilion Parish, Louisiana, was founded in 1843 by Antoine Désiré Mégret, a French Capuchin missionary. Located in the heart of Cajun country, the town's population was initially of predominantly French extraction, with a small component of Italian and German Catholics. An immigration society was established in Abbeville in 1883 to promote the agricultural opportunities of the area. This led to an influx of Midwestern farmers who helped develop the parish's rice-growing industry. Other important local industries in the early 20th century included cattle raising and lumbering.

John Winfred O'Bryan (1887-1943) established the Abbeville Progress in 1913. Billing itself as "A Wide-Awake Home Newspaper," the eight-page nonpartisan weekly reported a wide range of local, national and international news. Of particular local interest is news related to agriculture, including the development of farmers' cooperative unions, the progress of the Good Roads movement in south Louisiana, and reports on the economic and social effects of the boll weevil blight. A general agricultural advice column was supplemented by separate columns on poultry, livestock, and gardening; additionally, in 1915 the paper published a series of fourteen articles from the United States Department of Agriculture entitled "The Home Garden of the South." A fashion column and "Progress Woman's Page" were targeted at women readers, as was much of the paper's selection of fiction.

The Abbeville Progress published the minutes of the parish police jury (the equivalent of county councils in other states) after it became the official

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

What is the Newspaper Directory?

The Newspaper Title Directory is derived from the library catalog records created by state institutions during the NEH-sponsored United States Newspaper Program (<http://www.neh.gov/projects/usnp.html>), 1980-2007. This program funded state-level projects to locate, describe (catalog), and selectively preserve (via treatment and microfilm) historic newspaper collections in that state, published from 1690 to the present. Under this program, each institution created machine-readable cataloging (MARC) via the Cooperative Online SERIALS Program (CONSER) for its state collections, contributing bibliographic descriptions and library holdings information to the Newspaper Union List, hosted by the Online Computer Library Center (OCLC). This data, approximately 140,000 bibliographic title entries and 900,000 separate library holdings records, was acquired and converted to MARCXML format for use in the Chronicling America Newspaper Title Directory.

Why are there pages from only certain states?

Chronicling America is part of a phased project called the National Digital Newspaper Program (NDNP). This program, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), awards money to public newspaper archives in each state to digitize and deliver historic newspaper content to the Library of Congress for inclusion in Chronicling America. Listed below are the state and territories currently participating in the program and the date range for content they will provide*. Eventually, the NEH will fund awards in every state and territory.

General Searching in Chronicling America

Results listed first are most likely to be relevant to your search. Results will appear higher in the list when they contain

- more of your search terms;
- repeated search terms;
- search terms that occur near each other;

Your searches will yield better results if you keep the following points in mind:

- Common words such as and, not, and the are ignored by the search engine.
- Case of letters is ignored. For example, Civil and civil are treated the same.
- Diacritic characters (accent marks, in non-English text) and other special characters produce inaccurate results, so plain (unaccented) letters should be substituted for letters with diacritics.

Search and Browsing Tips

Many browsers have the capability of tabbed browsing, which opens a new pane in the current window, either in the background or the foreground. Users of Chronicling America have reported this as a useful method of navigating through search results- bringing up each result in a new tab. This may be accomplished by clicking with the right-hand mouse button (for Mac, hold down the Command key) and selecting "Open Link in New Tab."

Search results are displayed on a page that can easily be bookmarked or navigated to via the "Back" button on the browser. Every page in the Chronicling America application can be bookmarked, but only the addresses containing newspaper pages should be treated as canonical for purposes of citations and long-term referrals. These addresses are displayed in the address bar of the browser, and no special treatment is required for adding them to a citation database. (Select the "Persistent Link" URL displayed on each newspaper page view to store the link without search text highlighted.)

Search for a Phrase

- Select the Advanced Search tab and enter your phrase in the appropriate "...with the phrase" search box.
- When searching for a phrase, enter the words in the order they are most likely to occur.
- The order of search words does not affect the scope of the search results, but it will affect the order of their display.

Search for Words Near Each Other

- Select the Advanced Search tab and enter your keywords into the "...with the words" search box.
- Select a numeric value for how close the words should be to each other (proximity).
- This type of search can be helpful in narrowing results on a given person, place or event to a specific aspect of that person, place or event. For example: "Roosevelt conservation" within 10 words will result mostly in articles about President Theodore Roosevelt's Conservation policies during his administration.

Too Many Results - If a search generates too many results, try using more specific terms and/or limiting to a specific state of publication or a particular newspaper title. Use the search box options in combination to narrow your results. For example, use "President Roosevelt" as phrase and "Roosevelt conservation" within 10 words to narrow results to text about only President Roosevelt's conservation policies.

Too Few Results - If a search generates too few results, try alternate terms or broader subjects and relax any limiting criteria (date ranges, state limitations, etc.).

Because language changes, be sure to use search terms used at the time the materials were created, even if those terms are now obsolete. For example, the following historic terms will produce more results than their modern-day counterparts:

Digitizing Louisiana Newspapers Project (DLNP)

LSU Libraries is proud to present the Digitizing Louisiana Newspaper Project (DLNP), which offers 56 titles from the state of Louisiana published between 1860 through 1922—a total of 100,000 pages. An additional 100,000 pages from 27 titles published between 1836-1922 are currently being processed for digitization and will be available by the end of 2013. Access the complete list of newspaper titles via the Title and Parish links on the left. Browse newspapers from Louisiana and other states at Chronicling America.

FIGHT OPENED IN JOINT JUDICIARY COMMITTEE—DIFFERENT BILLS CONSIDERED.

ONE COPIES VOLSTEAD ACT

Another Would Instruct Louisiana Congressional Delegation To Work For Modification of Federal Laws as They Exist.

Baton Rouge.—The fight of the prohibitionists to enact a state law which will further the enforcement of the national dry law and of those who want the Louisiana Legislature to memorialize Congress to modify the Volstead Act to permit the sale of light wines and beer opened before the joint judiciary committee of the Senate at the first meeting of the committee.

The dry enforcement bill to be discussed was introduced by Senator T. L. Hood of Monroe, and has the support of the prohibition leaders.

Resolutions by Senator J. T. Powell and Senator William F. Durr of New Orleans urging the Louisiana delegation in Congress to work for a modification of the Volstead Act on the enforcement of present federal law is nothing more than a farce, will be taken up.

The joint judiciary committee will consider the women's rights bill later.

LOUISIANA HAPPENINGS

News of the Pelican State Arranged in Condensed Form

De Ridder.—The DeRidder Chamber of Commerce has begun to hold mid-week luncheons, after a lapse of about three months.

Lake Charles.—The enrollment in the city schools is 2129, while last year at the end of the first month the enrollment was 2116.

Franklin.—Bayou Teche is completely jammed from bank to bank from Shady Side Plantation up to New Iberia with water hyacinths and small boats are unable to navigate the stream.

Lake Charles.—The Calcasieu police jury has postponed, until its October meetings, the question of buying part of the Richard property, adjoining the courthouse, to be used as a city and county park.

Morgan City.—A movement is on foot to reorganize the Boy Scouts of Morgan City. C. P. Lynch, Joe Farrar, F. D. Winchester, Henry Loeb, M. E. Norman and J. L. Fisher have the matter in hand.

Arcadia.—The local American Legion post is planning to make Armistice Day a "large" event. A number of features will be added to the program and arrangements for a mammoth crowd will be made.

Monroe.—The corner stone of the Marion High School building was laid with exercises in charge of the Masons. The program consisted of the

RT. REV. M. J. CURLEY

The pope has appointed Rt. Rev. Michael J. Curley, present bishop of St. Augustine, archbishop of Baltimore. Bishop Curley was born in Athlone, Ireland, and was educated at Limerick, Dublin and Rome. He was ordained as priest March 10, 1904, and came to the United States, assuming charge of the parish of De Land, Fla. After ten years in this parish he was consecrated bishop of St. Augustine, June 30, 1914, succeeding the late Bishop Kennedy.

AMERICAN LEGION ISSUES STATEMENT SHOWING 600,000 TO 700,000 OUT OF WORK.

MAKE APPEAL TO EMPLOYERS

Want Jobs for Men Who Kept Business Safe From German Indemnity—Survey Covered Sixteen States.

Washington.—Claiming that there are from 600,000 to 700,000 veterans of the World War out of work, the American Legion, through its national Legislative Committee, has issued an appeal to employers throughout the country "to loosen their purse strings, lengthen their vision, and make jobs for the men who kept American business safe from a German indemnity."

The Legion's appeal says that a careful study made by the organization in 16 states indicates that there are 150,000 veterans out of employment in Pennsylvania, 100,000 in New York, 35,000 in Illinois, 20,000 in Massachusetts, 10,000 in Minnesota, 7,500 in Washington, 2,000 in Arizona, and from 5,000 to 20,000 in all of the remaining 16 states under survey.

It says that in several states veterans' relief laws, originally enacted to help needy Civil War veterans and amended to apply to World War veterans, are enabling unemployed veterans

Want Jobs for Men Who Kept Business Safe From German Indemnity—Survey Covered Sixteen States.

Washington.—Claiming that there are from 600,000 to 700,000 veterans of the World War out of work, the American Legion, through its national Legislative Committee, has issued an appeal to employers throughout the country "to loosen their purse strings, lighten their vision, and make jobs for the men who kept American business safe from a German indemnity."

The Legion's appeal says that a careful study made by the organization in 16 states indicates that there are 150,000 veterans out of employment in Pennsylvania, 100,000 in New York, 35,000 in Illinois, 20,000 in Massachusetts, 18,000 in Minnesota, 7,500 in Washington, 2,800 in Arizona, and from 5,000 to 20,000 in all of the remaining 16 states under survey.

It says that in several states veteran-aided to apply to World War veterans, are enabling unemployed ex-service men to obtain the bare necessities of life; that in other states where no such legislation has been passed, American Legion posts are slipping their treasures to their last dollars to keep "bread in the mouths and clothes on the backs of needy comrades."

Continuing, the statement says: "Today more American veterans

Baton Rouge Woman's Enterprise

In July 1921, less than a year after the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which guaranteed women the right to vote, the Woman's Enterprise was founded in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, the state capital and a center of industry and education. Devoted to women's interests, the paper was published and edited by Mattie B. McGrath (1867-1926). Formerly a writer for the New Orleans Times-Picayune, McGrath was the daughter of John McGrath (1835-1924), founder of two Baton Rouge newspapers, the Daily Truth and the Weekly Truth.

TIPS

—AND—

ADVICE

- Construct your searches carefully
- Conduct some preliminary research so you can develop/limit searches accordingly
- Try different terms, alternate spellings and misspellings, anachronistic usage, & abbreviations

BEWARE!

Many of our contemporary assumptions about newspapers will not apply!

- Newspapers are not objective
- Opinion, gossip, and outright lies are often printed as “news”
- Many newspapers were one-man operations dedicated to expressing the opinions of the editor (which often reflected the opinion of subscribers)
- With the profession of journalism in its infancy, many articles, photographs, and cartoons were “borrowed” from other papers (such as this image which was printed in The Voice of the People on May 14, 1914 but which originated from the Tacoma, Washington Times)
- Often no bylines, sections, or headlines until the 20th century
