BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

Russell B. (Billiu) Long served in the United States Senate representing Louisiana for 38 years. Son of Louisiana Governor and U.S. Senator Huey Pierce Long and nephew of three-time Louisiana Governor Earl Kemp Long, Russell Long was elected to the U.S. Senate seven times, retiring from public office in January 1987.

Russell was born in Shreveport, Louisiana on November 3, 1918. He was nine years old when his father became governor in 1928 and seventeen when his father was assassinated in 1935.

Russell began his political career at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, where he was elected president of the freshman class in 1935 and sophomore president the next year. In 1938, as a junior, he won the election for student body president.

After Russell graduated third in his Law School class in 1942, he enlisted in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He saw action in the Mediterranean, where he commanded a Landing Craft Tank (LCT) boat. He won four battle stars for his role in the invasions of North Africa, Sicily, Italy, and France and held the rank of lieutenant when he was discharged in December 1945.

Russell established a law practice in Baton Rouge in 1945, and he helped Earl Long with his campaign for governor in 1948. When Earl Long won the governorship, Russell joined the administration as executive counsel.

In 1948, Russell ran for and won a seat in the U.S. Senate. He served as Democratic whip from 1965 to 1969. During his time in the Senate, he was chairman of the Committee on Finance and the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation and co-chairman of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation. He was responsible for passing a bill establishing public financing of presidential campaigns, the Tax Reform Act of 1969, the Earned Income Tax Credit, legislation creating Employee Stock Ownership Plans (ESOPs), and Senate ratification of the Panama Canal Treaties.

Russell married Katherine Mae Hattic in 1939, and they were divorced in 1969. In December 1969, he married Carolyn Bason. He practiced law in Washington, D.C. and Baton Rouge and was a resident of Washington, D.C. at the time of his death on May 9, 2003.
SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The collection is composed of two subgroups: the Long Family Papers Subgroup and the Russell B. Long Papers Subgroup.

The Russell B. Long Papers Subgroup contains materials on Russell’s pre-Senate life, as well as the files of Senate office staff members. Documenting Russell's career as a U.S. senator (1948-1986) and the work of his Senate office staff on national issues and Louisiana affairs are correspondence, research files, writings, schedules and trip files, subject files, legislative files, agencies' files, voting records, press releases, speeches, photographs, films, video tapes, scrapbooks, special issue files, social events files, and campaign materials. Major topics include tax reform, petroleum law and legislation, patents and government-developed inventions, petroleum in submerged lands, flood control, inland water transportation, Louisiana politics and government, and employee stock options.

NOTE ON ARRANGEMENT

In 1979, Russell B. Long's (RBL) office filing system was changed to a central files system. Prior to the change, items were filed under these general headings: general legislative files, department and independent agency files, project files, and special issue files. After the change, items were filed under specific subject headings, for example, energy, environment, public works, taxation, and so forth. For each series, oversize materials have been separated from the regular files and placed in the oversize files. Such items are indicated by separation slips within the files.

A container list with folder level descriptions for the Long Family Papers Subgroup and the Russell B. Long Papers Subgroup is available electronically.

For 1949-1978, items that had previously been filed under separate subject headings (Legislative Files, Department and Independent Agency Files, Project Files, Louisiana State Affairs Files, and some Special Issue Files from 1949-1978) were centralized in 1979.    f. Panama Canal Treaties, 1978 (1 inch) Constituent correspondence in support of and in opposition to the treaties.

11. Automated Correspondence Files, 1979-1986 (23 linear feet) RBL's office used a number of different automation systems to handle constituent correspondence and issue mail. Early systems were decentralized, but in 1982 the office began to use the centralized Correspondence Management System (CMS) of the Senate Computer Center. This automated system provided a method for creating many similar, but individualized letters by using approved paragraphs or letters of text merged with constituent names and addresses. Information available from the system includes the name and address of the constituent, the aide responsible for answering the letter, at least three subject terms about the letter, a paragraph item number, the date of correspondence, and brief comments about the letter. This series contains the following paper reports issued by the CMS for RBL's office: Abstract Report by Topic, Abstract Report by Item, Frequency of Items Record, Frequency of Items Report, Topic Breakdown Report, Weekly History Report, and Library Item Encyclopedia. The magnetic tapes of RBL's files are also available. According to RBL's Office Records Management Plan, constituent letters, mail dealing with issues, postcards, telegrams, and letters answered by CMS were discarded in Washington after the Central Files system was established in 1979. In order to research such materials, the CMS records must be used. Previous to CMS, the office used decentralized automated systems that performed essentially the same function on a lesser scale than CMS. Pre-1979, the system was called "Flexos"; from 1979-1982, a mag card System 6 that produced "robos" was used; CMS was used from 1982 until the office closed in 1986. A new decentralized automated system was added in 1982. This was the Honeywell Office Automation Systems (OAS). The records kept for all the decentralized systems are similar and include the library of form letters and/or paragraphs, indexing terms, reports, and codes. There are no electronic records for these systems.

   a. General, 1948-1990, undated (37 linear feet) Contains transcripts of press conferences and radio spots; copies of articles, speeches, interviews, and press releases; correspondence with magazines, television stations, and radio stations regarding RBL's interviews and appearances; and constituent correspondence regarding public statements and appearances. Many files contain a chronological file of press releases, with relevant copies of Senate bills, committee prints, and so forth. Press release folders occasionally contain copies of speeches made by Long on the same topic and at the same time. Speech files may contain a copy of "remarks prepared" for the speech, a transcript of the actual speech, and background materials such as an outline of topics, texts of related speeches, schedules, lists of participants, and "suggested jokes."
   b. Press Secretary's Files, 1982-1984 (1.5 linear feet) Contains only photocopies of newspaper clippings reading files.
   c. Motion Pictures, Audio Tapes, and Videotapes (AV), 1948-1995, undated (34 linear feet) Throughout his Senate career, RBL was filmed and taped numerous times during press conferences, radio broadcasts to Louisiana constituents, on TV programs, and at special functions. Topics include the major legislation and committee activities of RBL and Louisiana projects and problems. Some items may be restricted because of physical condition.
   d. Photographs, 1774-1991, undated (14 linear feet) Most items in this file are numbered photographs taken by Senate photographers or taken in the Senate and at Senate functions. These files contain photographs from RBL's childhood, college days, and Senate career. Also included are photographs of family members, constituents, office staff, colleagues, and events. See APPENDIX A: INDEX TO PHOTOGRAPH LOCATIONS for location information.
